

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SESSIONAL EXAMINATIONS

Courses in levels 1 – 4 have no qualification requirement; however, these courses have online quizzes and/or integrative assessment(s) components that can allow you to accumulate up to 30% of your final course mark. Please refer to the course information on Blackboard for due dates and details. The final examination is worth 70% of your total mark and failure to complete all online quizzes and/or integrative assessment within the due dates will greatly reduce your chances of passing your course. No other exam qualification is required. Please note that the accumulated 30% of your final mark does not transfer to another session if a student defers their examination.

Students in the Pace level are required to submit assignments to qualify to write the national examination at the end of each course. Please refer to your course schedule on Blackboard for the assignment due dates. Qualifications for PACE examinations are outlined below. Core comment sheets will be provided to students who submit his/her weekly assignments where applicable. These comments are provided for assistance and must not be distributed to other students. The final examination is 100% of your course mark.

1. Students must be registered in the current academic year in order to be examination candidates.
2. A student qualifies for a sessional examination in a subject by submitting assignments and/or group discussions.
3. Students will need to obtain a minimum total of marks on assignment and/or group discussions submission to qualify to write the final exam for the course (refer to qualifying chart below).

PACE Level Exam qualifying marks

Advanced Corporate Finance (FN2)	325
Advanced External Auditing (AU2)	325
Internal Auditing & Controls Auditing (MU1)	325
Adv. Personal & Corporate Taxation (TX2)	325
Information Systems Strategy (MS2)	325
Public Sector Financial Management (PF1)	325

Students who fail to meet the qualification standard outlined in No. 3 will be disqualified from writing the examination. Notification of disqualification will be emailed just prior to the examination session.

4. Failure to qualify for an examination in a subject will not prejudice a student's right to sit for an examination in another subject for which the student is qualified.
5. Students who obtain the minimum total score of marks to meet the qualification standard are eligible to write. No notification will be sent unless the student is disqualified.
6. Students receiving disqualification notices, and are certain they have qualified, should contact Beth at the Association Office immediately by e-mailing office@cga-ns.org.
